

Lara lived in Sydney, Australia.
Her mum and dad were busy people.
Her dad, John Jones, was a famous film star.
Her mum worked in television.
They were in the city to see a new film.

Lara didn't see her dad often.
"You work all the time, Dad," she said.
"I'm sorry, Lara," said John. "But here's an idea.
I've got to start work on a new film on Monday.
It's near Uluru – how about you and Mum coming too?"
